Mr. T.... was one of those who profess to consider Heavenly riches as infinitely more valuable than sordid gold, but who, by all their actions, illustrate the truth of the remark with which we started, that "profession is not principle." I will give an example of his dealing in this latter respect.

A colored drayman had brought him a load of leather from a house far down town. After the leather was unloaded, the following dialogue took place:

"Well, old fellow, (and the drayman was old--at

NEW-YORK, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1845.

"Trick and hypocrisy and whining slways seem to go with poverty. Was that the gaudy butterfly, Mrs. L..., who just went out?"

Yes; I do think I have never known a more worldly-minded person than Mrs. L..., in my life. To the Editor of The New-York Tribune: Capt. Claridge, in his culogiums on the Water-The widow departed.

All she thinks about is dress and company.

Another year passed, and Mr. T. added fifty dollars more rent on the house. This was borne with also, for it was better than to move. But when fifty additional were demanded, under the impression that the tenant would consider it more than a loss of fifty dollars to move, he could stand it no longer, and sought another store. This store did not prove to be a good stand, which so troubled the young man's mind that from neglecting his business, he became unsteady, and in the end failed.

With Mr. T. . . . it was a common practice to the Captain in New-York I could show him a person who was cared of Dropsy of the Chest (a disease more formidable than the other, by reason of the danger of sufficient with a sufficient with a sufficient with a sufficient with a continuous care in less than three months. "Mother has no money to buy it with to night, but to morrow she will have some," said the mother, soothingly.

O, we'll have 'lasses to morrow for our cakes,' No one who knows the writer will feel disposed to accuse him of wishing to throw disrespect upon religion. How could he be so false to himself as to wish to darken the only true light that lighteneth every man that cometh into the world; which penetrates and disperses the gloom of the grave? But he is ever disposed to condemn and hold up to view all pretenders to that which they do not possessylone such man as Mr. T...... does more real harm in the world than a dozen open reprobates.

And, alsa! how many such there are. Who does not know a Mr. or a Mrs. T....? In what religious associations are not those to be found who are willing to have fauth alone, to trust in faith

Mr. C. has for 12 years given his sole and individual attention to the study and cure of beidness and gray hair, and during his practice has received the sanction and approval of the pracetage medical faculty of the city and many in Europe; the united recommendations of the press, and testimonials of thousands in every quarter of the country who have been benefited by his treatment.

Jordas, N. Y., April 15, 1845. In the winter of 1841 and '42 I was troubled with hourseness and dry, backing cough, produced, no doubt, by change of climate (having previously spent some time at the South, and passessing weak langs and rather a delicate constitution. In February I was attacked with bemorrhage of the lungs, which continued until I had not selficient strength of voce to speak loud in three mooths. Through medical treatment and care I partnally recovered during the summer, but on the fever, and night sweets. Physicians said they could do no more for me, as I was rapidly sinking with consumption. Fortunately my friends procured the Balaam of Wild Cherry, thinking it might relieve me for a time, and with the bleasing of kind Providence, It entirely restored me to bealth, which I have continued to do ploy until the present time, without any symptoms of my former disease, with the exception of being a fulle more lable to colds from damp air and sudden changes of weather.

Towards the close of his letter, Capt. Claridge alludes to a case of dropsy of the thigh and abdomen, which some medical ass had conceived to be gangreen. Under the treatment at Graefenberg, it is is added as a great wonder, that he was able to walk out in sixteen days, and a perfect cure was expected in less than three months. Bah! WINER'S ARCANUM EXTRACT
Versus Sar-saparilla.

This MEDICINE has acquired an extended and established celebrity throughout the country, which has been suctained by its virtues and efficacy alone, as a remedy for Scroftla, or Kine's Evil.
Ulcerated Sove Throat,
Long standing Recursait Affections,
Ulseases of the Soin, White Swellings,
Objectases of the Boucs, all Ulcerous Cases,
Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases,
Affections of the Liver, Dyspension to the same of Several and restored to the subscriptions of the City of New-York, in the steamboat ring in debititated and ceshectic constitutions,
Over Syphilis, not those very disagreeable affections resulting therefrom, and which have berelofore been considered incurable, such as Ulcers of the Largux, Throat, Nose, Nodes, &c.

The Arcanum Extract is a complete Antidote to the serious Evils, produced by the injudicious use of Mercury. As Spring and Fail Purifier it cannot be surpassed, working its way through the system with a silent and effective force: Cleansing the Blood,
Removing Dyspeptic Influences,
Soothing the Nerves.
Removing Internal Obstructions and Diseases that would observal cause in unity to the Layer and Lungs.
